Call for Volunteers at the Arthur F. Turner Community Library in West Sacramento

(Woodland, CA) – Since the recent re-opening of the Arthur F. Turner Community Library, a Yolo County branch library in West Sacramento, in its new building, the library has an increased need for library volunteers in a variety of capacities including:

- Adult literacy tutors
- Homework assistants
- Materials processors and shelveers
- Programming assistants
- English conversation group facilitators, and much more!

“If you would like to share your talents and interests with others, to support the library and to serve our community, the library invites you to become a part of their volunteer team,” said Yolo County Board of Supervisors Chair Mike McGowan.
