Yolo County District Attorney - A New Look, A New Direction

For the first time in 22 years, the Office of the Yolo County District Attorney has a new District Attorney at the helm. On January 8, 2007, Jeff Reisig was sworn in as the new District Attorney of Yolo County in front of hundreds of onlookers in Woodland, CA. Reisig, who was supported by every police chief and law enforcement association in the County, as well as the Sheriff and almost the entire staff of the DA's office during the campaign leading up to his June 6, 2006, election, announced that there would be many changes to the District Attorney's Office in 2007. He stated, "We have a fantastic group of folks in the District Attorney's Office who are absolutely committed to keeping our communities safe and delivering equal justice to all those we serve. But, you will see some fantastic changes in the DA's office over the next year, including an internal restructure and new approaches and new programs designed to make Yolo County safer."

In a new and bold looking website (www.yoloda.org), launched the same day as his inauguration, the Yolo County DA laid out some of his planned changes for 2007, indicating his intention to:

1. Expand outreach programs to educate the community and prevent crime;
2. Establish an Internet Crimes and Safety Unit
3. Expand the countywide Gang Task Force;
4. Establish a countywide Truancy Program; and
5. Establish a liaison program with law enforcement partners.

"I am excited about the future of Yolo County and I am ready to get to work as your District Attorney." Reisig stated.
