IMPORTANT NOTICE

Attention: Construction and Demolition Project Managers/Owners

A green waste quarantine has been put in place in the City of Davis, City of Woodland and certain designated areas of unincorporated Yolo County. The quarantine restrictions are in place to control the infestation of the light brown apple moth (LBAM). This quarantine may affect Construction and Demolition (C&D) projects that are required to achieve recycling diversion rates under local ordinance, for LEED certification, etc.

Those C&D projects which generate both C&D waste (drywall, lumber, metals, etc.) and that also generate green waste (brush, leaves, branches, etc.) will need to start segregating the green waste material from their normal mixed C&D loads in order for diversion to be counted correctly. This is normally not required, however with the LBAM quarantine in place, any C&D loads containing green waste, if not segregated are required to be sent to the landfill for disposal only and no diversion credit will be issued.

Please see the attached press release and map of the LBAM quarantine boundary to see if this affects your current C&D project.

Sincerely,

Pamela Hedrick
