Yolo County Library's Online Catalog & Calendar Now Mobile

(Woodland, CA) – As more and more are going to the Internet from their mobile devices, the Yolo County Library has optimized its online catalog and calendar of events for the small screens of smart phones and tablets with a mobile data application.

A Pew Research Center study found in May 2010, that six in ten American adults were wireless Internet users, with mobile data applications having grown from 51% to 59% in just the prior year. Yolo County Library patrons can now use their smart phone or tablet to search the library's online catalog for the hottest book or the coolest DVD and check their library account to see if the book, music or movie they requested is ready for pick up. Patrons can also view the Yolo County Library's reading suggestions, read favorite newspaper without cutting down a tree and learn about special events at their local branch.

“We are pleased to provide this mobile technology for those on the go,” said Yolo County Librarian Patty Wong. “The Yolo County Library wants to be the information vehicle to get you where you want to be.”
