Board of Supervisors Acknowledge Outstanding Employees

(Woodland, CA) – Annually, the Yolo County Board of Supervisors acknowledges employees who exemplify the county’s core values of Service, Performance, Integrity, Responsibility, Innovation and Teamwork. The following list of this year’s SPIRIT Award recipients, selected by a team of front line and supervisory employees representing six different county departments, were recognized today:

Service:

Julie Dachtler, board clerk in the County Administrator’s Office
Dave Edwards, enforcement officer in the District Attorney’s Office

Performance:

Olesya Tribukait, senior civil engineer in the Planning & Public Works Department

Integrity:

Lynda Styczynski, senior accountant in the Auditor-Controller/Treasurer-Tax Collector’s Office

Responsibility:

Corina Carrillo-Macias, senior accountant-systems in the Auditor-Controller/Treasurer-Tax Collector’s Office

Innovation:

Kyle Gohn, programmer analyst, in the Department of General Services, Information Technology Division

Teamwork: Parks Maintenance Crew in the Department of General Services

Jerry Wright, Supervising Parks & Facilities Worker
Andy Anderson, building craftsmechanic
Joel Peppers, parks and facilities worker
Macedonio Sanchez, parks and facilities worker

“The SPIRIT awards is a wonderful opportunity for us to highlight the meritorious efforts of our employees in promoting the core values of Yolo County,” said Yolo County Board of Supervisors Chair Jim Provenza. “While we are honored to publicly recognize these outstanding employees, it should be noted they were nominated and selected by fellow employees, which already speaks volumes about their contributions.”
