2012	Day Report Center (DRC)	The Yolo County Day Reporting Center (DRC) is a collaborative effort between the Sacramento County Office of Education, the Yolo County Sheriff's Department, the Yolo County Probation Department and the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation. The program provides comprehensive evidence-based services to men and women on probation, parole or releasing from the Yolo County jail. Our overarching goal is to reduce recidivism through effective community integration by addressing the causes of re-offending behavior, thereby strengthening individuals and families, and improving public safety as a whole.	3e,3f, 4e	382/200 (DRC Annual Report) Active Capacity 30 in-custody 75 Out-of-Custody	DRC Steering Committee and Sacramento County Office of Education (currently) Other Treatment Providers to be Included, based on their interest	$621,234	$685,141	$621,234/28,412* = $21.87 per client per day *DRC Annual Report: total CCP client days of service
