

Support for Disadvantaged Communities: Developing Effective Active Transportation Projects and Programs

March 24, 2015 • Caltrans District 3 Office at 703 B Street, Marysville, CA

Workshop Description

The California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) will be announcing a call for Active Transportation Program proposals at the end of March 2015. Caltrans is sponsoring workshops to provide technical assistance to help disadvantaged communities and others develop impactful active transportation projects and programs that will successfully compete for ATP funding.

The first workshop will be March 24, in Marysville, at the Caltrans District 3 Office at 703 B Street.

Registration is required. To register, please visit:

The workshop is a free, full-day (8-hour) training, and will be delivered once in each of the 12 Caltrans districts, beginning in late March through early May of this year.

Check back to www.lgc.org/atp-support for a complete list of workshop dates and locations in the other Caltrans districts.

Topics include

- Developing bicycling and walking projects and encouragement programs: using best practices and cutting edge design to get the most bang for your buck
- Designing and implementing an effective community engagement process
- Low-cost strategies to develop a bicycle/pedestrian/active transportation plan
- Effectively using health and crash data to design and justify your project, including SafeTREC TIMS, SWITRS, Cal EnviroScreen
- Predicting and documenting user rates, including low-cost pre/post user surveys
- Top 10 Tips for a Successful ATP application

Consultant team members conducting this workshop include the Local Government Commission, Rails-to-Trails Conservancy, California Walks, and California Bicycle Coalition.

Please note: this is not a “how to apply to ATP Cycle 2” workshop. Caltrans is offering a separate series of full-day trainings on how to prepare and submit applications for ATP Cycle 2 funding.
