

FREE GARDENING CLASS: Plant Propagation Techniques
The Hanna and Herbert Bauer Memorial Community Garden is hosting a gardening class that is open to everyone!

Wednesday, October 7th, 5:15- 6:30 pm

You will learn.....

- ❖ Various approaches to plant propagation (seed, air layering, etc.)
- ❖ How to select the right propagation method for your garden
- ❖ Benefits of propagation to save money and maximize yields
- ❖ Methods for propagating all types of plants, not just garden plants
 - ❖ No experience necessary, all are welcome

Class taught by UC Master Gardener of Yolo County Jim Schulte

Join us for this FREE class!

Class Location: Yolo County Health and Human Services Department Bauer Building, 137 N. Cottonwood Ave in Woodland. The garden is on the west side of the building. We will meet inside the garden gates at the picnic tables under the pergola. Remember to bring sun protection and water!

To register (required): Please contact Robin Rocksvold at robin.rocksvold@yolocounty.org or via phone at 530-666-8528. Register by Monday, October 5th 2015.

Community gardens increase access to healthy foods, strengthen community relationships, provide a way for residents to be active outdoors, and offer enriching educational opportunities. Ask us about the availability of community plots for growing fruits, vegetables, herbs and flowers.
