Native Bee Day at the Davis Branch Library April 23

(Woodland, CA) – Buzzz! Are you interested in bees? Come celebrate Native Bee Day on April 23 from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Mary L. Stephens Davis Branch Library, located at 315 E. 14th Street in Davis, and learn all about native bees with the Davis Science Collective.

Families and children of all ages will learn about native stingless bees through pollination activities, honey tasting, flower dissections and more. This free program will have a variety of fun and family-friendly activities and live demonstrations. The Davis Science Collective, a group of UC Davis graduate students, promotes science and facilitates communication and interaction with the community.

No reservations are required and all programs are free to attend. This event will be held in the Blanchard Room which is accessible for persons with disabilities. For more information about this event, contact Joan Tuss at: (530) 757-5588 or joan.tuss@yolocounty.org. For more information about the Yolo County Library, visit: www.yolocountylibrary.org or connect with the library on Facebook at: www.facebook.com/yolocountylibrary.org.
