Grant Writing Workshop at the Davis Branch Library

(Woodland, CA) – Community agencies and grant writers are welcome to attend a free workshop on census data grant writing on February 13 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Mary L. Stephens Davis Branch Library, located at 315 E. 14th Street in Davis.

Participants will learn how to access the most current data from the United States Census Bureau's products via the newly enhanced American FactFinder and how to successfully capture community profiles relevant to specific grants and program developments. The first hour will review the Decennial Census, American Community Survey and the Population Estimates Program. The last two hours will go over hands on census data navigation such as search filters, working with tables and mapping resources.

To register for this program contact Patty Valdovinos at: patty.valdovinos@yolocounty.org or (530) 757-5578. This program is a collaboration between the United States Census Bureau and the Yolo County Library and supported by the Friends of the Davis Public Library.
