

North Davis Meadows Water Project Update
February-March 2017

Previously:

1. West Yost Engineering conducted house to house site visits during February to determine appropriate location and connection point for projected new domestic water supply line.

What's New:

1. West Yost will develop a plan for how each house can have a dual water supply. This would be City of Davis water for domestic use, and a separate supply from our own existing wells for irrigation and outside use.
2. Actual alignment of the proposed pipeline to our subdivision is still being determined.
3. A Request for Information proposal is being developed and publicized to line up what broad band providers are interested in providing service to our neighborhood. This will be coordinated with the water supply project.
4. There is a new General Milestone Schedule posted on the North Davis Meadows Community Service Area section of the Yolo County website.

Next Steps

1. We hope to hear from the State by March 2017 about our low interest loan application for the current planning activity. A separate application is needed for a construction loan.
2. West Yost's dual supply plan, together with estimated cost and Engineer's Report, should be completed by August 2017.
3. We currently anticipate August 2017 for another Prop 218 election to provide funding for the construction of the planned new domestic supply system.
