Gardening 101 Class March 28

(Woodland, CA) – Spring is around the corner and it's time to dust off gardening tools and begin preparation for a spring and summer garden. To help residents get started with some gardening basics, the Hanna and Herbert Bauer Memorial Community Garden is hosting a free Gardening 101 class on Wednesday, March 28, from 5:15 to 6:30 p.m.

This interactive class will be taught by David Linebarger, the garden manager, and will cover topics such as soil preparation, strategies for planting and timing for planting summer crops. There will be time to ask questions and no gardening experience is required to attend.

This class is free to all and is part of the Yolo County Health & Human Services Agency's commitment to providing education and resources that help residents eat fresh fruits and vegetables and live healthier lives. Classes are offered for free throughout the year at the community garden. To learn more about the garden activities and classes, visiting: www.yolocounty.org/garden.

Pre-registration for the current class is required by March 27. To register, contact David Linebarger at (530) 666-8429 or david.linebarger@yolocounty.org. The garden is located at 137 N. Cottonwood Street in Woodland, on the west side of the Yolo County Health and Human Services Agency Bauer building.

Please dress for cool weather and/or rain and wear shoes that can get dirty. In the event of steady rain, the class will be cancelled.
