Members Sought for Community Review Boards in Woodland & West Sacramento

(Woodland, CA) - The Yolo County Probation Department is seeking community members to serve on Adult Community Review Boards in Woodland and West Sacramento.

The goal of Community Review Boards is to divert low-level offenders, currently under supervision but in violation of their probation terms and conditions, from further incarceration by providing them an array of community-based services with the ultimate objective of preventing repeat offenses. The Probation Department is recruiting members dedicated to community reinvestment and prevention to serve on Adult Community Review Boards in both Woodland and West Sacramento. The time commitment to serve is one evening a month.

“A positive benefit for offenders and our communities is realized when community-based resources are provided to low-level offenders,” said Yolo County Chief Probation Officer Dan Fruchtenicht. “I encourage residents interested in creating a second-chance opportunity to consider making a New Year’s resolution to be a part of the solution by serving on a Community Review Board.”

Those interested in serving on an Adult Community Review Board member should visit: <https://www.yolocounty.org/law-justice/probation/adult-community-review-board> and complete an application. For more information, e-mail: Sergio.Pimentel@yolocounty.org.
