NOTE:

In 1983 Yolo County LAFCO received a proposal for RD 2120 (Little Holland). The LAFCO commission denied the proposal. However, the state Reclamation Board approved the proposed formation of the district. With the states approval the Reclamation District was formed.

In 1999 the area of the district was sold to the US Army Corps of Engineers for the purposes of habitat migration. The US Army Corps of Engineers currently maintains the function of the district.

It no longer exists as a reclamation district although it was never formally dissolved.
