2009 YoloLINK Community Services Directory Updates Now Available

(Woodland, CA) – YoloLINK is Yolo County’s community resource directory of over 900 organizations and programs that provide services to Yolo County residents, connecting people in need to programs and services designed to provide assistance. YoloLINK supplies detailed information about government and non-profit agencies, elected officials, public schools, community groups, faith-based services, special interest groups and more.

YoloLINK’s three separate indexes enable users to find information by agency or program name and by type of services offered. Each listing provides addresses and phone numbers, hours of operation, description of services, eligibility requirements, fees, application procedures, languages spoken by staff, geographic area served and access for people with disabilities.

The YoloLINK database is continually updated and available online at www.yololink.org. Hard copies of the directory are also available by visiting www.yololink.org. An updated directory insert costs $28.50 and the updated 2009 directory is available now. The custom-made 3-ring binder for the 5.5” x 8.5” insert is an additional $9.00. Inserts and binders can be picked up at YoloLINK at the Yolo County Library Administration offices located at 226 Buckeye Street in Woodland. Arrangements to have inserts and binders delivered can be made by calling (530) 666-8005.

To order copies of the updated community services directory contact YoloLINK at www.yololink.org or call (530) 666-8005.
