Fun, Free Resources for School from Yolo County Library

(Woodland, CA) – The Yolo County Library offers students and educators complimentary access to a vast array of online resources, including books, world music, theatrical productions, and Ken Burns documentaries, through platforms such as TumbleBooks and the Alexander Street Performing Arts collection. These resources, along with others, can be accessed at YoloCountyLibrary.org/Research.

TumbleBooks is designed for young learners aged 0 to 12. It is designed to support their development of foundational reading skills and foster a love for reading. It engages both enthusiastic and reluctant readers through animated books and musical elements, with content available in both English and Spanish.

The Performing Arts collection features performances from esteemed theater companies such as the National Theatre, L.A. Theatre Works, and the Royal Shakespeare Company. It also includes the BBC Landmark Video collection and recordings from the Smithsonian Folkways label, offering valuable educational content for learners of all ages.

Yolo County Library's online resources are free and available to the entire community. Yolo County Librarian Diana Lopez emphasizes, "We are your partner in education. Visit us online or in-person for resources that support your learning goals."

Parents and caregivers will enjoy exploring these resources with their children, while educators will discover excellent materials to enhance their curriculum. For more information, visit YoloCountyLibrary.org/Research.
