Electrical Code Training Opportunity

(Woodland, CA) – The Yolo County Planning & Public Works Department Building Inspection Division will be providing training on 2007 California Electrical Code related to services and overcurrent protection on Mar. 11, 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. at 292 W. Beamer Street, in Woodland. Registration is $50 per person and includes a certificate of attendance, course handouts and refreshments. Registration forms may be obtained from the Planning & Public Works Department or downloaded here: www.yolocounty.org (go to: Government > Planning & Public Works > News & Event). One may also register by calling (530) 666-8775.

This training is geared towards contractors, homeowners, business owners, building inspectors, electrical inspectors, plans examiners, building officials and design professionals. The training will be focused on 2007 California Electrical requirements for services and overcurrent protection. Specific attention will be placed on articles 230 and 240.

The course will be conducted by Bill Clark, a retired chief electrical inspector with 21 years of experience. Mr. Clark has trained at the University of California, Berkeley and teaches electrical seminars throughout the United States.

Registration forms are due Feb. 20, 2009. For more information contact the Yolo County Department of Planning & Public Works Building Inspection Division at (530) 666-8775.
